Calcutta High Court dismisses PIL on mosque loudspeakers

The Calcutta High Court on Tuesday dismissed a PIL, which alleged that loudspeakers were being removed from mosques in parts of West Bengal.

A division bench headed by Acting Chief Justice Tapabrata Chakraborty dismissed the petition, holding that there was no written instruction by the state authorities.

Senior advocate Kalyan Banerjee, who moved the petition, had alleged that loudspeakers were being removed from mosques in the state following oral instructions from authorities.

The bench, also comprising Justice Atarup Banerjee, said that the petitioner could not produce any written order in this regard.

Advocate General Surojit Nath Mitra told the court that there was no such order issued by the authorities.

It was also stated that there was no meeting between imams of mosques and the police authorities in this regard as alleged by the petitioner.

SC defers PIL hearing on Odisha DGP appointment

The Supreme Court on Tuesday deferred to September 2 the hearing on a PIL which alleged that the Odisha Government was trying to include a junior officer in the list of probable candidates for the DGP post in breach of the apex court's directions in the 2006 Prakash Singh case.

A bench comprising Chief Justice Surya Kant and Justices Joydip Bagchi and V Mohana was informed by Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Odisha Government, that the state has filed its response to the PIL.

The bench said that the reply of the state Government was not on record. The CJ said that he would like to throw the reply of the state Government. The bench then deferred the hearing on the plea to September 2.

Earlier, the top court had asked the Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) not to finalise till August 18 the names of probable officers for appointment of the Director General of Police of Odisha.

It was hearing the PIL which alleged that the state Government was trying to include a junior officer in the list of probable candidates for the DGP post.

The incumbent DGP, YR Khanna, was to demit office on August 16.

Senior advocate P Chidambaram, appearing for the petitioner, had told the bench that an officer of the rank of ADGP was promoted to Odisha.

Allahabad HC directs UP Govt to form fresh panel for welfare of advocates' clerks knowledge of the nature of work performed by the advocates' clerks, their remuneration, responsibilities and their role in the administration of justice.

The court passed the order on a petition filed in 2017 by Sushil Kumar Srivastava, seeking directions to the State to formulate a welfare policy for the advocates' clerks.

The petitioner submitted that the advocates' clerks perform several crucial functions, including assisting lawyers with secretarial work, filing cases, coordinating with court registries, obtaining certified copies and removing defects in petitions.

Despite this, they generally do not have access to social security, medical benefits or pension. Even after their services end due to old age or incapacity, they most of its members apparently did not have adequate

The Allahabad High Court on Tuesday directed the Uttar Pradesh Government to constitute a fresh committee to examine the problems and welfare needs of the advocates' clerks, who play an important role in the functioning of the judicial system.

The Allahabad High Court comprising Justices Alok Mathur and Amitabh Kumar Rai earlier rejected the recommendations of a committee constituted in January 2021, observing that most of its members apparently did not have adequate

State cannot take life against human dignity: Supreme Court

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Tuesday said the State, even when authorised to take away life, cannot do so in a manner that is arbitrary, excessive or incompatible with human dignity.

A bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta said the method of execution must satisfy the constitutional requirements that it minimises suffering and preserves, to the greatest extent possible, the inherent dignity of the condemned.

The bench made the observations while dismissing a petition seeking abolition of the practice of executing a death row convict by hanging and replacing it with methods such as intravenous lethal injection.

In its verdict, the top court said among all punishments permitted by the law, death penalty stands apart in its severity and finality.

"When a court of law, upon due adjudication, imposes a sentence of death for a crime, the State, through its constitutional machinery, is called upon to carry out a punishment of the gravest nature, one that, once executed, is incapable of being undone," it said.

The bench said if an error occurs, whether in the process or the proportionality of punishment, the consequences cannot be undone. "It is this final and irreversible character of death penalty that has placed it at the centre of continuing debate in constitutional law, criminal jurisprudence and moral philosophy, both in India and across jurisdictions," it said, adding that legitimacy of the death penalty has been debated over centuries.

It said that in India, the question of legality of capital punishment has been examined by the prism of constitutional scrutiny, beginning with a decision of the top court that affirmed that death penalty did not violate the guarantees under Articles 14, 19, or 21 of the Constitution, provided it was imposed upon conclusion of a lawful trial with robust procedural safeguards.

The bench said in the pre-colonial period, the administration of criminal punishment across the country was neither uniform nor governed by any codified legal standard.

It said while the Indian Penal Code, 1860, provided the legal authority to impose death penalty, it was the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1861, that first established 'hanging by the neck' as the sole method to carry it out.

"This selection was framed as a humanitarian reform of the era, utilising the long-drop technique. The method was premised on a clinical calculation of the condemned's height and weight to ensure a fracture of the cervical vertebrae, purportedly resulting in instantaneous loss of consciousness and life," it said.

The bench said the legal mechanism for execution remains unchanged in more than a century and a half of statutory progressions.

Referring to a Constitution bench verdict, the bench noted it had firmly established that the right to life includes the right to live with human dignity up to the end of natural life, which necessarily encompasses the right to die with dignity.

"This constitutional protection does not cease to exist at the palladium. It must apply with equal emphasis to prisoners who are on death row," it said.

The bench said the issue before it was not one about the existence of the State's power to impose capital punishment, which stands recognised in law, but the limits within which that power must operate.

It said the exercise of such power is necessarily conditioned by constitutional safeguards.

"The State, even when authorised to take life, cannot do so in a manner that is arbitrary, excessive, or incompatible with human dignity," it said.

The bench said when this petition was taken up for consideration in October 2017, the apex court had issued notice and observed that constitutional perspectives are not static and that the Constitution is a living and evolving instrument.

It noted that the court had also called upon the Centre to explore whether more humane and less painful alternatives to execution by hanging could be considered.

The top court said in May 2023, it was informed that the Government was in the process of considering the constitution of an expert committee to examine the issues raised in this proceedings.

"However, no further update has been provided regarding the constitution of any such committee. Even in the written submissions filed on behalf of the Union of India, there is no indication that any such committee has in fact been constituted," the bench noted.

It said the petitioner had contended before it that under the Army Act, 1950, the Air Force Act, 1950 and the Navy Act, 1957, the sentence of death may be carried out either by hanging or by being shot to death.

"We find the said argument to be irrelevant and unconvincing because the statutes in which shooting is provided as a mode of execution operate in a distinct field and govern a separate class of persons subject to military law," the bench said.

If sitting CM commits an offence, can CBI investigate it? ED asks SC to decide

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi

The Enforcement Directorate on Tuesday urged the Supreme Court to decide whether the CBI can investigate or not if an offence is committed by a sitting chief minister.

A bench of Justices Prashant Kumar Mishra and NV Anjaria was hearing a plea filed by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) alleging obstruction by the then West Bengal chief minister Mamata Banerjee and other state authorities during its January 8 search of the office of political consultancy firm I-PAC in Kolkata.

At the outset, senior advocate Menaka Guruswamy, appearing for TMC supremo Mamata Banerjee, submitted that now that the Government has changed, the prayer for sanction and transfer to local police can be done by the state Government and nothing remains in the matter. At this juncture, Justice Mishra remarked that pursuant to the subsequent changes (in regime), nothing remains and the matter can be disposed of by allowing the ED's prayer for the transfer of investigation to the CBI.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the ED, requested the court that the larger issue was decided.

"We don't want to face any allegations that the state Government, because of political reasons, has done it. Either we are right or wrong; I want the court to decide. I don't wish to fall in the death trap that, subsequent to the changes in the Government, the state transferred it to the CBI," Mehta said.

Additional Solicitor General SV Raju contended that the court must decide whether the CBI can investigate a sitting chief minister if an offence is committed.

"The issue is whether a sitting chief minister, who happens to be the Home Minister, if she commits a crime, it is an appropriate case for the CBI to investigate or not?" Raju said.

The top court has posted the matter for hearing on September 2.
