Medical Education in AP to Get Major Reforms

Vijayawada (TSIT): Andhra Pradesh is set to undertake a series of major reforms to take medical education to international standards, promote research and strengthen emergency healthcare services, Dr Pulala Chandrasekhar, Vice-Chancellor of Dr NTR University of Health Sciences (NTRUHS), said on Tuesday. Addressing a press conference at the Silver Jubilee Hall on the NTRUHS campus in Vijayawada, Dr Chandrasekhar said the university would soon introduce a Learning Management System (LMS) and Artificial Intelligence (AI)-based teaching and learning methods. The initiatives would initially be implemented in government medical colleges and later extended to private colleges.

He said the university was giving priority to transparent examinations, academics and research, with the objective of creating an environment conducive to innovation and high-quality medical research. NTRUHS is the State's health sciences university based in Vijayawada.

Dr Chandrasekhar said several medical colleges in Andhra Pradesh had performed well in recent rankings and assessments. Andhra Medical College (AMC), Visakhapatnam, was cited as having secured a top position among medical institutions in the State.

With the average life expectancy in India rising to around 72 years, the university was also working on expanding Geriatric Medicine and Family Medicine services to address the healthcare needs of an ageing population.

He said 50 B.Sc Emergency Medicine seats would be introduced in 19 government medical colleges from the current academic year. The move is aimed at strengthening emergency and casualty services while also creating new employment opportunities for young people. Andhra Pradesh has already been moving to expand undergraduate emergency-care education in its medical colleges.

More flexibility in MBBS counselling

NTRUHS Registrar Dr T. Sai Sudheer said the university had introduced greater flexibility in the 2026–27 MBBS counselling process under the revised guidelines.

He said Phase-I counselling for MBBS seats under the Convenor quota had been completed. Of the 4,581 seats, 4,321 were allotted, while 4,231 candidates reported at their allotted colleges within the stipulated deadline. Another 90 candidates did not report.

The Phase-II All India Quota counselling is being conducted from September 3 to 11, following which the State quota Phase-II counselling is tentatively proposed to begin from September 11.

A major change is that candidates will be allowed to submit fresh web options at every counselling stage. This means candidates can consider newly available seats, newly permitted medical colleges and increases in seat intake in subsequent rounds.

Dr Sudheer advised candidates to select as many preferred colleges as possible and arrange them carefully according to their priorities. He said candidates were not required to choose every available college, but selecting a larger
