

Russian drones target Kyiv gas stations

HANNA ARHIROVA ■ Kyiv

Russian drones targeted roadside gas stations in Kyiv for a second straight day Friday, as Moscow broadened its air war in what Ukrainian officials say is an effort to rattle civilians.

Russian strikes on urban gas stations have intensified in recent months, mostly in regions near the front line in eastern and southern Ukraine. It is part of a campaign to disrupt civilian life and weaken morale that has also included attacks on food distribution hubs, leaving some supermarket shelves bare in the Ukrainian Capital.

Ukraine is urgently trying to improve its air defences as Russia's invasion stretches into its fifth year, and on Thursday won pledges of more support from Canada.

Ukraine, meanwhile, has extended its own long-range drone campaign deep into Russia, straining air defences across its bigger neighbour's vast territory. On Thursday, its military reported hitting a refinery more than 3,000 kilometres away in Siberia as Kyiv tries to hurt Russia's vital oil sector. Its strikes have caused fuel shortages in Russia, one of the world's biggest energy producers.

Russia's oil product exports hit record lows in August, and Moscow is importing fuel from South Korea and India, the Centre for Research on Energy and Clean Air said in a report. "Ukrainian strikes on Russia's refining capacity have turned tables on the world's once largest oil product exporter to see them start importing fuels, with imports surging to a record 172,000 metric tons (189,600 tons) in August — more than seven times the previous monthly high," the Finland-registered nonprofit said on Thursday.

Drones hit two gas stations in 10 minutes in Kyiv's Dniprovskiy and Obolonskiy districts Friday. Five people, including a rescuer, were wounded, the State Emergency Service said.

Ukrainian officials and analysts have warned for months that Russia would extend gas station strikes to the capital as part of its campaign to intimidate civilians. Authorities have urged residents not to linger near gas stations and other exposed infrastructure during air raid alerts.

Pavlohrad, a city in central Ukraine, observed an official day of mourning Friday for five residents killed near shopping malls in broad daylight by Russian drones the previous day. The attack also wounded 67 people, Foreign Minister Andrii Sybiha said on X.

In the southern city of Zaporizhzhia, a 32-year-old woman and her 10-year-old son were wounded in an overnight Russian drone attack, Ukraine's State Emergency Service said. The drones struck a nine-story

UK CHIEFS CLAIM 1.5M RUSSIAN TROOPS DEATH

Kyiv: More than half a million Russian troops have been killed in Ukraine since the start of Moscow's full-scale invasion in February 2022, a senior British defence official said Friday.

The dead are part of 1.5 million Russian casualties in Ukraine, Air Chief Marshal Sir Richard Knighton, Chief of the UK's Defence Staff, said. The UK figures roughly coincide with those published by the Ukrainian military. There was no immediate comment from Russian officials. Moscow's bigger army is struggling to make headway on the battlefield. Western officials and analysts say the Russian rate of advance has slowed significantly this year. (AP) apartment block and a shopping mall, it said. Efforts to put out the blazes were slowed by the constant threat of repeat strikes, forcing firefighters to stop working and take shelter, it added. Ukraine launched a major barrage overnight from Thursday to Friday, with the Russian Defence Ministry saying air defences intercepted 777 Ukrainian drones over 16 Russian regions, as well as occupied Crimea and the waters of the Azov and the Caspian seas. Two people were killed and three others wounded overnight in a Ukrainian drone attack on the Tula region south of Moscow, local officials said on Friday.

Nepal Cabinet approves PM Shah's participation in UN General Assembly

SHIRISH B PRADHAN
■ Kathmandu

Nepal Prime Minister Balendra Shah will highlight the impacts of climate change, including the significant loss of lives and property his country has suffered from climate-induced disasters, at the upcoming UN General Assembly session, a top official said on Friday.

Shah will visit the US for the 81st session of the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) in New York from September 22 to 26. This would be his first foreign visit since assuming office in March.

"Prime Minister Shah is scheduled to address the General Debate on September 24, 2026," said Foreign Secretary Amrit Bahadur Rai during a press briefing at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs on Friday. During his address, Shah will raise the issue of climate change and its impacts in the wake of the devastating Bhotekoshi flash floods of August 26.

Rai said the heavy losses borne by Nepal due to the flash floods have proven again that the country lies on "the forefront of the crisis emerging from climate change". (PTI)

South Korea's ex-President acquitted in soldier's death case

KIM TONG-HYUNG ■ Seoul

Former South Korean President Yoon Suk Yeol was acquitted Friday in a case related to a marine's drowning death in a rare reprieve in one of the criminal cases brought against him following his ouster for imposing martial law.

The independent counsel's indictment had alleged Yoon deliberately appointed former Defence Minister Lee Jong-sup as his ambassador to Australia to help him leave the country and evade a criminal investigation into the death of Cpl Chae Seung-yeon, who drowned during a search-and-rescue operation for flood victims in 2023.

But the Seoul Central District Court ruled it was unclear whether Yoon's appointment was intended to disrupt the investigation. Yoon said he appointed Lee as ambassador to promote military cooperation with Canberra, and his lawyers welcomed the court's verdict while calling on prosecutors not to appeal.

Yoon's former justice minister and presidential security director were among other defendants also acquitted of charges that they colluded with Yoon to help Lee sidestep the investigation. Prosecutors didn't immediately say whether they would appeal Friday's verdict.

A separate indictment alleges Yoon and other officials tried to cover up and manipulate the investigation into Chae's death, which sparked a public uproar after it emerged that military commanders had ordered soldiers to conduct search operations without life vests and other safety equipment.

An early investigation by the marine corps held a division commander and seven other people responsible for Chae's death. But Yoon expressed fury over the commander's inclusion, prompting senior presidential and Defence Ministry officials to pressure the marine corps to revise the report to exclude the commander, according to prosecutors.
