

Nepal earthquake deaths cross 1k, hunt continues

Police forced to resort to burials; rescue ops stuck due to conditions

KATHMANDU

RESCUE teams with search dogs continued to search through mud, rocks and debris on Tuesday on the border with Nepal and China for thousands of people still missing following the catastrophic floods that tore through communities across the Himalayas, leaving more than 1,000 dead.

As police in Kathmandu buried dozens of bodies in multiple trenches, Nepal's disaster agency said that 1,003 deaths had been counted there, with 3,916 people missing, including 583 foreign nationals. In its latest update, China reported 16 deaths and 546 missing, including 261 foreigners.

The scale of the Aug. 26 disaster is hampering rescue efforts in both countries, with landslides, destroyed roads and widespread damage cutting off remote areas. Crews faced challenging conditions as they searched unstable terrain and piles of debris, raising fears the death toll could rise as rescuers reach isolated communities.

Rescuers are racing to reach hundreds of workers believed to be trapped inside tunnels at hydropower projects in Nepal damaged by the floods.

About 900 workers are missing from 12 projects, with roughly 500 believed to be trapped in tunnels, according to local authorities. Brigadier General Raja Ram Basnet, Nepal's army spokesperson, said teams assisted by foreign experts were working at hydro-power projects.

Images released by the army showed rescue teams entering tunnels and wading through mud and water in the search for signs of life. AP

Iran guards vow US will 'regret' fresh attacks

WASHINGTON

US forces on Tuesday launched strikes against Iran's Revolutionary Guards in response to attempted attacks on commercial shipping and American forces, the US military said.

The strikes, which began at 1600 GMT, came after "recent attempted attacks by (the Guards) against commercial shipping in the Strait of Hormuz and against American service members deployed to the region,” US Central Command said on X.

"If the failed Nation of Iran retaliates for this very justified attack, they will be hit again at a much harder and higher level, but it will not be the biggest attack of them all, that is waiting in the wings,"

Donald Trump warned on social media after US Central Command announced the latest strikes.

Shortly after, Iran's Revolutionary Guards vowed to make the United States "regret" fresh attacks around the Strait of Hormuz, even as United States of America President Donald Trump warned Tehran against striking back. Explosions have been heard in parts of southern Iran, including Bandar Abbas, and Chabahar.

General Ali Khalilabadi, the deputy governor for security and law enforcement of Iran's Sistan and Baluchestan province, confirmed the US attack on Konarak and said Chabahar was also targeted, according to the country's IRNA news agency. AP
