2 get 2-year R for kidnap, rape of 17-year-old

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE additional district and sessions special court for Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) has convicted two accused in a 2017 case involving the kidnapping and rape of a 17-year-old girl.

The Fast Track Special Court-3 Judge in Bengaluru Rural district, Ramanaiah, convicted accused No.1 Raghavendra and accused No.2 Sagar, and sentenced them to 20 years of rigorous imprisonment and imposed a fine of Rs 20,000 on each. The court also ordered compensation of Rs 7 lakh for the victim. Accused Nos 2 and 4 are still absconding.

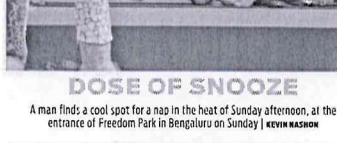

Special Public Prosecutor JR Ramesh conducted the prosecution that secured the conviction.

to take her there. They took her to Room No 6 of the lodge. When she did not find her friend there and questioned the duo, they allegedly told her to wait as her friend would arrive. When she went to the washroom, they locked the door and later raped her.

After some time, another accused, Manjunath, who is absconding, also allegedly raped her. When the victim screamed, accused No. 2, the lodge manager, came and enquired about the incident. The three accused allegedly told the manager, too, to have sexual intercourse with the victim and not to inform the police. The prosecution said in a press release issued on Friday.

The prosecution further stated that the accused wrongfully confined the victim in the room for 10 days, threatened to kill her if she disclosed the incident and repeatedly sexually assaulted her. Later, the victim's father filed a complaint with the Kadugodi Police Station. The investigation was conducted by Inspectors H Jayaraj and Channesh, who filed a charge sheet under the POCSO Act and relevant sections of the IPC.

The trial was conducted against Raghavendra and Sagar. The judge found both accused guilty and convicted them.

ABVP opposes Umar Khalid documentary

BENGALURU: Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad (ABVP), Bengaluru, has condemned plans to screen Laila Vachani's documentary Prisoner No. 52670 on Umar Khalid at the National Law School of India University (NLSIU). The student body expressed concern over the use of educational premises for a screening centered on individuals it said were linked to anti-national groups during the JNU controversy, Afzal Guru commemorations, and mobilisation during the CAA-NRC protests and Delhi riots. The organisation said academic campuses should remain dedicated to national integrity and learning rather than political propaganda or glorification of civil unrest. The NLSIU administration is yet to respond to its complaint, said Abhinandan Mirji, the secretary of ABVP's Bengaluru unit. ENS

AI-generated leopard photo triggers panic

DAVANAGERE: Police took a 22-year-old man into custody after an AI-generated photograph of a leopard triggered panic among residents in Harhar taluk of Davanagere district. Police identified the man as Sunil (22) of Vasana village. He had circulated the AI-generated image on social media, claiming that a leopard had been spotted at a farm in Nandishwara Camp. The image soon went viral across the district. Forest officials who inspected the site found no leopard footprints and suspected that the photograph was fake. Following a complaint at the Malebenahalli police station, police traced Sunil and detained him. He reportedly admitted to creating the image using AI. Police issued him a strict warning before releasing him. ENS

26 more child labourers rescued in Bengaluru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONTINUING their special operation against child labour in Bengaluru, the city police rescued 26 more children and booked cases against shop owners and other employers.

So far 588 child labourers have been rescued in the city and 105 cases registered across multiple police stations in the city under the provisions of the Child and Adolescent Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act and the Juvenile Justice Act. Over 800 child labourers have been rescued in the statewide crackdown conducted at nearly 17,000 locations.

The city police on Sunday said that special teams comprising police officers and labour inspectors were constituted and surprise inspections were conducted at 6,076 locations, including commercial establishments and industrial areas in the city. The move comes after Chief Minister DK Shivakumar noticed children working at the Agricultural Produce Market Committee (APMC) yard in Yeshwanthpur during a surprise visit recently.

Auto driver snatches techie's gold chain

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AN unidentified auto-rickshaw driver robbed a 9 gm gold chain from a woman while she was waiting for a cab on Saturday and fled. Shwetha, the victim, is a resident of Putehalli and a software engineer working in the city.

The Putehalli police who registered a case said Shwetha had arrived from abroad at Kempegowda International Airport on Friday night and took a bus to Dorewanna Palya on BG Road. She later booked a cab to reach home. While she was waiting for the cab at 12.45 am, the auto-rickshaw driver approached her, allegedly snatched the gold chain and fled. The police have launched a manhunt.

GOVT YET TO SUPPLY NOTEBOOKS, FOOTWEAR TO STUDENTS

GAYATHRI M KURUP @ Bengaluru

SEVERAL government school students across Karnataka are yet to receive notebooks months into the academic year, leaving them at the mercy of local donors, community members and, in some cases, teachers themselves to meet their requirements. Educationists and student organisations have raised concerns that delays in providing basic learning materials are affecting the children, particularly those from economically weaker families.

Education expert Niranjanaradhy VP said the issue was being reported from several parts of the state. He said students admitted additionally to schools were, in some cases, not receiving the required supplies to meet the difficulties in classroom learning. He said teachers were already facing a learning crisis, which was further compounded by shortages of teachers.

All India Democratic Students' Organisation (AIDSO) Karnataka state office secretary Mahantesh said notebooks provided by the government are yet to reach schools in several districts. Some schools, he said, were managing the shortage through charity groups, villagers, panchayats and alumni.

"Some parents with up to four children find it difficult to buy notebooks for all of them," Mahantesh said. He said teachers in some schools approach local residents for help, while some also spend money from their salaries to purchase notebooks for students. In some cases, children reuse notebooks belonging to older siblings by tearing out used pages and covering the remaining pages for another academic year.

A government school staffer in Korangudi of Ballari district said students at the school had not received notebooks. The school has 158 students, many of whom come from families dependent on agricultural daily wage work. He said the financial condition of the families made it difficult for parents to purchase additional school materials.

The schools are also facing delays in receiving shoes and socks. At a school in Ballari, students are waiting for footwear for four months. A faculty member said some children are coming to school barefoot as they cannot afford to purchase footwear.

Niranjanaradhy said the education department should begin procurement well in advance, fix a clear timeline and ensure that notebooks, textbooks and other required materials reach schools before the academic year begins.

MP activist joins Turahalli forest clean-up drive

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 21-year-old environmental activist, Surendra Singh Choudhary, popularly known as Bittu Tabhi, who single-handedly cleaned up a stretch of the Almar River in Biora of Madhya Pradesh, took part in a Turahalli forest clean-up drive on Saturday.

The drive, which cleared over two tonnes of waste, was organised by 'The Indian Garage Co team, Indus Herbs and Plogrun.

Participating in the drive, Choudhary, along with the volunteers, raised the slogan, "Namma Kasa, Namma Jawadhari" (Our trash, our responsibility). Choudhary said he would visit different states and spread awareness about keeping the cities and localities clean.

"When Indian Garage reached 500k followers on Instagram, we wanted to celebrate the milestone differently. This thought led us to Turahalli Forest, where we brought our team and community together for a clean-up drive," said a representative of Indian Garage.
